

All I can say about the FCC's proposal to overturn New Jersey's "Do Not Call" law is that if our founding fathers had any idea how the laws they put into place would become so easy to manipulate by the spin doctors or how lobbyists would effect decisions of federal agencies by lining the pockes of inept bureacrats, they would have happily let the British empire have their way and keep the status quo.